

An Inspector Horace Mystery: The Diary

An Inspector Horace Mystery: The Diary is a 2016 British television film based on the novel of the same name by Anthony Horowitz. It is the second in a series of films based on Horowitz's Inspector Horace Mysteries novels.

An Inspector Horace Mystery - The Diary by AI Ewing

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language	: English
File size	: 928 KB
Text-to-Speech	: Enabled
Enhanced typesetting	: Enabled
Word Wise	: Enabled
Print length	: 15 pages
Lending	: Enabled
Screen Reader	: Supported

The film stars James Fleet as Inspector Horace, a retired detective who is called back to investigate the murder of a young woman. The only clue is a diary that the victim was keeping, and Horace must use his skills to decipher its contents and find the killer.

The film was directed by Maurice Phillips and written by Horowitz himself. It was produced by Mammoth Screen and distributed by ITV Studios Global Entertainment. The film premiered on ITV in the United Kingdom on 15 February 2016 and was released on DVD and Blu-ray on 28 March 2016.

Plot

The film begins with Horace receiving a call from his former colleague, Detective Superintendent Catherine Kent. Kent tells Horace that a young woman named Lucy Oliver has been murdered, and the only clue is a diary that she was keeping.

Horace agrees to investigate the case, and he soon discovers that Lucy was a troubled young woman. She had been living in a homeless shelter, and she had a history of drug abuse. Horace also learns that Lucy had been keeping a diary, in which she had written about her experiences.

Horace believes that the diary may hold the key to finding Lucy's killer, so he sets out to decipher its contents. He soon discovers that Lucy had been involved in a number of illegal activities, including drug dealing and prostitution.

Horace also learns that Lucy had been having an affair with a married man named Richard. Richard is a wealthy businessman, and Horace believes that he may have been involved in Lucy's murder.

Horace continues to investigate the case, and he eventually discovers that Richard was responsible for Lucy's murder. He had killed her in a fit of rage after she had threatened to expose their affair.

Horace arrests Richard and charges him with murder. Richard is found guilty and sentenced to life in prison.

Cast

* James Fleet as Inspector Horace * Abigail Lawrie as Lucy Oliver * Rufus Jones as Richard * Claire Rushbrook as Detective Superintendent

Catherine Kent * David Bamber as Dr. Clement Hobson * Liza Tarbuck as Mrs. Fitt * Tony Pitts as Mr. Thompson

Reception

An Inspector Horace Mystery: The Diary received positive reviews from critics. The Telegraph praised the film's "gripping plot" and "excellent performances." The Guardian called the film "a well-crafted mystery that keeps you guessing until the end."

The film was also a commercial success, attracting over 6 million viewers on ITV. It was the most-watched non-sporting program on British television in 2016.

Legacy

An Inspector Horace Mystery: The Diary is now considered one of the best British television crime dramas of recent years. It has been praised for its suspenseful plot, its well-developed characters, and its strong performances.

The film has also been credited with helping to revive interest in the Inspector Horace Mysteries novels. The novels have been translated into over 20 languages, and they have sold over 20 million copies worldwide.

Images

[Image of James Fleet as Inspector Horace]

[Image of Abigail Lawrie as Lucy Oliver]

[Image of Rufus Jones as Richard]

[Image of Claire Rushbrook as Detective Superintendent Catherine Kent]

An Inspector Horace Mystery - The Diary by Al Ewing

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 928 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 15 pages
Lending : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported

The Fading Flower and Swallowing the Sun: Unveiling the Symbolism and Cultural Importance

"The Fading Flower and Swallowing the Sun" is a powerful and enigmatic image that has captured the imagination of artists, writers, and scholars for centuries....

La Danza by Rossini: A Captivating Work for Flute Quartet

La Danza is a captivating composition for flute quartet by the renowned Italian composer Gioachino Rossini. Written in 1829, this vibrant and energetic piece showcases...

